Thanks much Jennifer (and Tammy too).

This reads well, and is concise (which is what we're seeking this year). At first-and-second read, I don't see any major gaps or revision suggestions.

I have a few minor questions that might flush this out -- if you don't have it handy, we may be able to grab it -- and none of these are critical.

- * Cost of fire to date?
- * Number of personnel on fire at peak?
- * Number of days an out of area team was managing the fire?
- * Injuries (I know there was one major injury, but others?
- * And are there any concerns about winter rains affecting areas outside or beside the fire (along the highway?). Any road closure signs/plans already prepared in case this happens? This might fit in right after the BAER sentence.

Finally, while I know we have some photos here, I was wondering if you have any that show (1) WHY the road will remain closed (falling logs, loose slopes?), and (2) that demonstrate some of the full suppression response to keep this out of private lands (burnout operations, other work), and (3) that show the fire under-burning in thick timber/ wilderness, to show the variety of these westside fires).

If you could get us this before the Thanksgiving break, that would be great.
Again, thanks.

Hi Tammy,

Traci requested a fire season narrative for Terwilliger Fire. I started the submission (attached below). Please feel free to make edits and add anything else you think should be included.

Thank you!
